(C) Reading*5) Read the following passage, then answer the questions:

Most students find university very different from school. One of the biggest differences is that university students are expected to manage their time themselves. Although staff will help, it is the students' responsibility to be in the right place at the right time and to hand homework in on time. The way teaching is organised is also very different from school. At university, lecturers teach classes that may last two or three hours and can include 300-400 students. There are usually other smaller classes where students can discuss subjects they find difficult, and from time to time lecturers spend time with individual students, talking about work they have done. If students are not living at home while they are at university, there are many ordinary things they may have to do for themselves, such as cooking.

A) Answer the following questions:

- 5- What does the writer suggest students should be prepared to do when they go to university?
a) Be organised.    b) Read many books.
c) Find a job.    d) Discuss ideas.

6) Read the following passage, then answer the questions:

Taha Hussein was not born blind. He lost his sight after having the wrong medicine. So, he received special treatment from his parents but he also sometimes felt that his parents didn't care about him.

When he was a very little boy, he didn't understand the reason for this but soon he found out. His brothers and sisters could do many things that he couldn't do of course because they saw but he did not. This made him angry and sad and this made him sit alone most of time.

All these experiences stirred him to use his mind more and pushed him to try discovering things by himself, but this put him into many troubles. One day, something happened that changed his life and made him quite shy. It came to his mind to eat with both hands instead of one. As soon as he tried to do so, his sisters and brothers roared with laughter but his father sadly said, "That is not the way to eat, son" modern technology is used to make their search safe and fruitful.

A) Give short answers to the following questions :

Archaeologists are experts who are concerned with the study of ancient civilization based on objects or parts of buildings that are found in the ground. Champollion was the French archaeologist who found the key to the ancient Egyptian language. He was able to read the Egyptian text written on the Rosetta stone. Champollion came to Egypt with Napoleon in 1799. It was the Rosetta stone that helped us to learn about our ancient Egyptian grandfathers who were great in the human history.

A- Answer the following questions:

6- Read the following passage then answer the questions

A comet is a member of the solar system which travels on an orbit combined with gases. The brightest part of a comet is the head and it has a tail composed of thin gases and fine particles. Comets should not be confused with meteorites or "shooting stars" which flash across the sky at almost any time. For many centuries the coming of a comet caused people to tremble with fear. They believed that comets were evil signs foretelling plagues, wars and deaths. It often happened that a comet was seen about the time that an important event in history took place. One appeared in the sky just before Jerusalem was captured and destroyed by the Romans about 2000 years ago. During the funeral of Julius Caesar, a great bright comet was seen over the city of Rome. Another was seen on the day that the Roman emperor Nero killed himself. When people understand what causes these bright flashes in the sky, superstition and fear change to curiosity. Although there is still much to learn, astronomers know a great deal about comets and their orbits. Comets do eventually die, that is, they break up and are scattered along their orbits in the form of meteoric dust.

5) Read the following passage, then answer the questions:

In the winter, many animals and birds travel hundreds of kilometres to places with a warmer climate and more food. This incredible journey takes place every year at about the same time. It is common to see birds sitting on walls or telephone wires waiting to travel the long distance between the places where they spend their summers and their winters.

Scientists do not know exactly how they find their way to and from their winter homes. It is though that there are different ways, for example, using the sun and stars for navigation. Some people believe that birds depend on their senses, including their sense of smell, to help them find the way. Some animals and birds travel thousands of kilometres. Blue whales have been known to ravel up to 20,000 Kilo-

Scientists are very important to our future. What kinds of problems can they help us to solve. Here are just a few of these. Scientists can help farmers to produce good quality food for the world growing population. They can also develop new crops which do not suffer from diseases. Scientists and engineers can work with car companies to produce cars and other vehicles which use fuel more efficiently. At the same time, research scientists are looking for new types of energy to replace oil and petrol. Other scientists, too, are doing research into new treatments for serious illnesses. But perhaps the most important work scientists are doing is to find ways of reducing global warming.
